CONCLUSION

Overall the team work and the management was affective to developing the game, I feel pleased with my personal contributions to the project. Area where i feel we could improve are separating the work load more equally as the coding team had most of the work to be done. Too conclude this project I believe it to be a successful team project and I have taken a lot of skills and knowledge away from the project.